

Mrs. Wilson Uses Sour Milk as Well as Sweet in Making Biscuits and Rolls

Hominy, Whole Wheat, Bran, Corn and Potatoes Are All Good Material for Delicious Hot Muffins

COLD weather uses the vital energy of the body much more rapidly than other seasons of the year and for this reason: Many folk who are sedentary and indoor workers can not meet the demands of the weather and men and women feel confident of good results. It makes a little real difference whether you use sour milk, sweet milk or water in making the batter and do not alter the choice of liquid for the moisture, even though it goes against the grain to use sour milk, without baking soda—still, you can make splendid griddle cakes and biscuits with sour milk and baking powder.

Hominy Hollow Muffins Place in a mixing bowl one and one-half cups of sour milk—water will do. Four tablespoons of shortening. Two and three-fourths cups of flour. One teaspoon of salt. Two level tablespoons of baking powder.

Beat with a spoon to blend thoroughly and then turn in well-greased muffin pans and bake for twenty-five minutes in a hot oven.

Bakerfield Biscuits Place in a mixing bowl three and one-fourth cups of white flour. One-half cup of cornmeal. One teaspoon of salt. Three level tablespoons of baking powder. Two level tablespoons of sugar.

Rub between the hands to mix and then rub into the prepared flour six tablespoons of shortening and use one cup of milk to form a dough. Work smooth and roll out three-quarters of an inch thick. Bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

Whole Wheat and Bran Muffin Place in a mixing bowl three cups of sifted whole wheat flour. One and one-half cups of bran. One teaspoon of salt. Three level tablespoons of baking powder.

Rub between the hands to blend and then rub in four tablespoons of shortening. Mix to a dough with one cup and two tablespoons of milk. Roll out one-half of an inch thick and then cut and bake in a hot oven.

The success of these biscuits depends entirely upon the careful and exact level measurements.

Whole Wheat, Bran and Nut Muffins These are the famous health muffins that are used in a world famous sanitarium. Place in a mixing bowl two and one-half cups of whole wheat flour. One-half cup of bran. One and one-half cups of milk. One teaspoon of salt. Three level tablespoons of baking powder.

Two level tablespoons of sugar. Two cups of milk or water. Beat very hard for five minutes and then add four tablespoons of melted shortening.

One cup of finely chopped nuts. Fill well-greased and floured muffin pans two-thirds full and bake for twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven.

Folly Alley Waffles This famous old Southern recipe has been jealously guarded for more than 100 years. Place in a mixing bowl

Yolks of two eggs. One and one-half cups of sour milk. One teaspoon of salt. Three tablespoons of melted butter. Beat with an egg beater to blend. Now add

Three and one-half cups of flour. Six level teaspoons of baking powder. Two tablespoons of sirup. Beat to smooth batter and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake in well-greased waffle irons that are smoking hot.

Peacock Alley Griddle Cakes Place in a mixing bowl one and one-half cups of milk. One egg. Three tablespoons of melted butter. One teaspoon of salt. Two tablespoons of sirup. Beat hard to mix and then add

Two and one-half cups of flour. One-half cup of cornmeal. One cup of bread crumbs. Two level tablespoons of baking powder. Beat hard to mix and then bake on hot, well-greased griddle.

Corn Griddle or Hoe Cakes Place in a saucpan three cups of boiling water. One teaspoon of salt. Four tablespoons of sirup. Add slowly one and one-quarter cups of corn meal and cook until mixture will hold spoon upright and then turn in bowl and let cool. Use one cup of flour to form into thin flat cakes by turning the hands. Place on griddle and bake, turning like griddle cakes.

These cakes, to be successful, must be very thin and the flour used on hands while patting them out. Serve with country fried pork with cream gravy.

Potato Griddle Cakes Place in a mixing bowl two and one-half cups of flour. One teaspoon of salt. Four level tablespoons of baking powder. Two level tablespoons of sirup. Two level tablespoons of shortening. One and one-half cups of milk. One cup of mashed potatoes. Beat to a smooth mixture and bake in hot griddle.

Irish Scones Place in a mixing bowl one and one-half cups of flour. One teaspoon of salt. Four level tablespoons of baking powder. One cup of dry mashed potatoes. Three tablespoons of shortening. One well-beaten egg. Work to a smooth blend and divide into four parts and work each part out into shape of saucer. Cut in four wedge-shaped pieces and bake eighteen minutes in a hot griddle and turn to brown both sides.

MRS. WILSON'S ANSWERS Dear Mrs. Wilson—Will you give a recipe for making peanut butter at home? MRS. W. P. K.

It will not pay to attempt to make peanut butter at home. The only way that you could attempt it would be by putting the peanuts through the food-chopper and this is very unsatisfactory and not at all successful. You can purchase peanut butter in large quantities in a hot griddle and turn to brown both sides.

Dear Mrs. Wilson—Kindly advise what is the best method to use to serve at a shower, there will be twenty guests. Can the same refreshments also be used in the evening as well as in the afternoon? I desire something nice, but also inexpensive. MRS. M. W. M.

You may serve ice cream and cake, fruit salad with coffee and this sandwiches made with cake and jelly; potato salad, thin bread and butter sandwiches, cake and cream; celery, nut and cream cheese sandwiches, cake and coffee. If you desire you may serve tea in place of either the coffee or the cocoa. All the above will be suitable for either the afternoon or the evening.

Tiny Hat With Fur Matches Her New Coat

By CORINNE LOWE

We don't need ermine or sable or kolinsky this year to make us feel well dressed. One of the striking features of the winter modes is the use of inexpensive pelts by the great foreign designers. For example, a stunning navy coat dress of kasha is trimmed with gray agnella. The suit from another foreign atelier is set off with lynx-dyed green to match the material.

The comparatively inexpensive skunk is employed on stunning afternoon creations of georgette and chiffon. And one of the most eminent of designers has surprised us by the amount of rabbit which she dyes to the color of suit or frock.

The use of both rabbit and the crinkly pelts like angella and astrakhan is the limitation which the Paris designer for children puts upon pelts, and it is one observed largely by our domestic designers. Above we show a gray velvet coat trimmed with gray astrakhan and accompanied by hat to match designed for the girl from two to six.

Read Your Character By Digby Phillips The Mento-Vitals Reading character is like most everything else. Theoretically you can draw hard and fast lines. Practically, you'll find that not everybody fits entirely within the given classifications.

You have, for instance, the three types of character, mental physical and vital. A great many people will fall entirely within the top of the other three classifications. But many also will partake of some of the characteristics of each of two of these types.

You know that the vital type, for instance, is marked by the face which is broadest between the ears, with a rounded chin, and that the mental type is broadest across the top of the head in the region above the eyes. But suppose you find a person who is broad above the eyes and between the ears, and whose chin, instead of being pointed or square, is rounded. And suppose that in addition the build of that person tends to the round rather than the square and big-boned. Well, you'll find that such a person partakes of the mental characteristics of both the mental and the vital types, and is in three, what might be termed a mento-vital type.

It's a mighty efficient equipment for a business man to have. The vital type has special advantages in the acquisition of profits, as has been explained in a previous article. Add to this practical prediction and judgment the equipment of a high mentality, and you have a combination that is suited not only for business, but for very big business if it is developed properly.

Tomorrow—Lumber Joints About Short Hair The frequent shampoo is a necessity for the short-haired. It is necessary to keep the ends from separating and causing a straggly appearance. Once in every ten days should be sufficient unless you are troubled with an excessive amount of oil. It is shampooed so much more easily than long hair, however, that it is almost a pleasure to do it. It dries rapidly, and no great expenditure of time is required. Unless the atmosphere is damp or your hair is extremely heavy, a half hour sees the entire process through.—Deineator.

Things You'll Love to Make Choosing Partners for Thanksgiving Dinner An interesting and exciting way of CHOOSING PARTNERS FOR A THANKSGIVING DINNER is to make a large pumpkin of orange crepe paper. Fill it with small fruit or vegetable-shaped punchbuns. You can buy the frame for the pumpkin or make one yourself. It consists of a wooden board with eight wires nailed to it and bent into the shape of the pumpkin. Pad very lightly with cotton and cover with the paper. Before twisting and tying the paper around the stem at the top, place inside the pumpkin the cushions with a ribbon tied to each. Let the ribbons hang out over the sides. Now make bookmarks of heavy paper or thin cardboard similar to the one shown at the left of the illustration. Have a head on each bookmark to match one of the cushions. The tie is cut around on three sides to go over the page of the book. Give the gentleman the bookmarks. Each lady pulls one of the ribbons. The gentleman has as partner the lady who draws a fruit or vegetable to match the one on his bookmark. FLORA.
